Something to Ponder

What is your purpose in your church?

A New Destination for Discipleship: Building the Baltimore-Washington Conference Center

The Baltimore-Washington Conference of The United Methodist Church, the regional body of nearly 700 United Methodist congregations will build a new 35,000 square foot office building and learning center to resource congregations and ministries in Maryland, Washington, DC, several counties in West Virginia and Bermuda. The conference, when possible, would like to use United Methodist sub contractors in the building project. There are a number of different contractors and services needed, some of which include: plumbing, concrete, electrical, drywall, painting, tile work, steel work, brick work, carpeting, furnishings, landscaping, and roofing. If you are interested in donating services or bidding on the project (will be handled through Turner Construction of Baltimore) or would like information on these matters, please communicate your interest right away by going to www.bwcumc.org and in the upper right corner click on Conference Center Update. There you will be able to complete an information form. BWC is an equal opportunity employer.
